

It is essential that the Federal Government not interfere with the free competition of local radio with satellite radio services. There should be no regulations regarding the limitation of satellite radio to provide local information such as traffic reports or weather conditions.